She was born in Amherst, Ohio on May 29, 1925, to Mead and Ada Petty and grew up on Baumhart Road in South Amherst where her family owned a tile making business and an apple orchard. Robert McBeth

Robert B. "Mac" McBeth died suddenly on 11-12-13, a day after his 86th birthday, his beloved dog Mercy by his side. Born in Crescent City, CA on November 11, 1927, to Charlie and Addie McBeth, Bob was the second of six children: first came the four boys (Charles, Robert, Paul and Alan) and much later, two baby sisters (Rita and Carol). They were raised in northern California and southern Oregon. A veteran of WWII, the very young Bob saw the end of the war aboard a battleship in the Pacific. Following V-J Day in 1945, he left the Navy for a short stint as a crop duster in Oregon. After crash landing two planes, he reupped with the Navy for a 21-year career in meteorology. An historically significant moment of his naval career happened in 1962, while he was stationed on the island of Trinidad. Only 90 miles from Cuba, he and his company were on high alert and prepared to respond to the Soviet threat, the Cuban Missile Crisis. Bob retired from the Navy in 1966 and came to work for NCAR in Boulder as a weatherman. His impressive career in meteorology showed him the world: he traveled to both the Arctic and Antarctic, to Greenland, the South Pacific, Venezuela, and other sites around the globe; he was one of the first scientists allowed into China at the end of the Cultural Revolution and established a weather station in Tibet at over 18,000 feet. He was married to his wife, Lee, for over six decades, and shared this: "my wedding day was the very best day of my life." He and Lee raised three children: John McBeth (Lorraine), Davis, CA; Valerie McBeth (Kevin Allen), Boulder; and Jeff McBeth (Isabel), Longmont. He regularly busted buttons of pride over his six grandsons, three granddaughters, and one great-grandchild on the way. Bob was a nationally ranked skeet-shooter, played golf on U.S. Navy teams, and was an outstanding bowler. His other passions included biking - he set up a bike repair 'business' in his basement to repair all the flat tires for neighborhood children; he built birdhouses for birds in the neighborhood and for Habitat for Humanity fundraisers; he learned to make yoghurt at home, brewed pretty terrible beer and wine, and crafted amazing heirloom wood toys for his grandchildren in his wood shop. He had a rather short stint in the art of Bonsai and an incredibly long stint of impish wit, generosity, and joie de vivre. He loved all animals, in particular dogs, and was known as the 'dog whisperer' because of his very special connection with them. Bob kept current with technology and spent many hours in later years reading voraciously on his I-pad about everything from the solar system to modern music, as well as the latest spy novels. He is remembered both as a gentleman and a gentle man and he leaves behind a very proud family. A Christian celebration of life will be held on Monday, November 25th at 11 a.m. at First Presbyterian Church in Boulder.

David Ronald Lunch, age 80 of Orlando, passed away Saturday, February 22, 2020. He was born October 30, 1939, in Vallejo, California. He retired from serving in the Navy after 26 years and retired from the US Government after 24 years of service. David was a devoted family man. His compassion and charity were always present. A loving husband and father, a caring man to those around him, he embodied everything good about humanity. From the little surprises he gave to his wife, the unwavering devotion he showed his children, and the donations he made to those in need, David always reminded everyone of his heart, compassion, and love for those around him. As an Aerographer's Mate in the Navy, David enjoyed everything about the weather. He made sure everybody knew the types of clouds in the sky. For many years, he was a reader at the 5:00 pm mass at Sts. Peter & Paul. He also enjoyed word games and puzzles, golf with the family, ham radio, a good baseball game, and his San Francisco 49'ers. David will be sorely missed and loved by the ones he touched. He will be remembered every day. May we always honor his beloved memory, his quiet strength, and his sweet smile. He was one-of-a-kind; he will never be replaced.
